

HIGH TEA AND GARDENS

Our day begins with an early afternoon tea at the Chado Tea Room in Pasadena. Enjoy this decadent and classic experience starting with a Chado Salad, assorted finger sandwiches, freshly made scones (served with Devonshire cream and jam) and seasonal desserts accompanied by a selection of freshly steeped loose leaf teas. After lunch, we'll visit The Huntington Library, Art Museum, and Botanical Gardens. Originally the private estate of railroad magnate Henry E. Huntington, The Huntington is considered one of the great Gilded Age residences of America. Encompassing 130 acres and containing more than 83,000 living plants including rare and endangered species, the 16 stunning themed gardens include the popular Rose Garden, Camellia Garden, Jungle Garden, Japanese Garden and Chinese Garden. The art museum features British, European, American, and Asian art spanning more than 500 years and includes more than 45,000 objects. Extraordinary examples of decorative arts and folk art, paintings, prints and drawings, photography and sculptures are displayed in the Huntington Art Gallery (the original home of Henry and Arabella Huntington) and in the Virginia Steele Scott Galleries of American Art - This tour involves moderate walking.

Portions of the art galleries are subject to closure during exhibit installation.
